

360° support and services

Ready offers a wide variety of professional support to teachers

Teaching and learning support

Editorial Team is committed to developing materials with effective and up-to-date teaching approaches for the local curriculum.

Sales Team is dedicated to providing full support to teachers to ensure a hassle-free teaching journey.

Training Team provides professional school-based training and support to teachers.

Digital Team provides hands-on technical support and e-solutions to meet teachers' needs.

School support services

A wide range of workshops are delivered by highly qualified educational consultants and experienced teachers to meet teaching and learning needs.

Dr Paul Sze from the Chinese University of Hong Kong

Dr Wilton Fok from the University of Hong Kong

Mrs Julia Wan from Hong Kong Baptist University

Professor Icy Lee from the Chinese University of Hong Kong

Dr Yuen Yi Lo from the University of Hong Kong

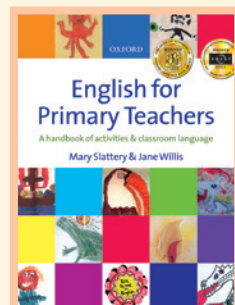

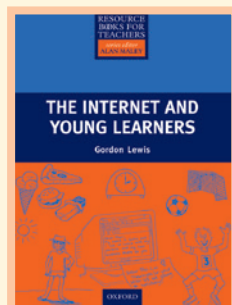

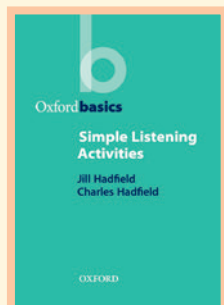

360° support and services

Oxford unique offers for professional development

Oxford Teachers' Academy courses are online, self-study professional development courses. The courses are full of original ideas, approaches and theories. Completion of Oxford Teachers' Academy courses is certified by Oxford University Department for Continuing Education.

Over 100 professional development books have been published to help enhance teaching effectiveness. Some of our most popular publications including Oxford Basics series for teachers, Primary Resource Books for Teachers series and English for Primary Teachers.

inTouch with Oxford for teaching inspiration!

inTouch is a free educational app designed to keep school teachers in touch with the current and future trends in education, the most inspirational tips for learning and highlights of Oxford University Press (OUP) events in Hong Kong.