Conditional sentences about possible situations

You are updating the website of a beach clean-up event. Complete the website by combining the clauses with the modal verbs in brackets.

attend a briefing session	let us know by calling our hotline
call or email us anytime	need more time
form a team	not allocate your first choice of date
inform us via email	submit the names of your group members
join this meaningful event	support us by donations

Hong Kong Cleanup organizes beach clean-ups throughout the year. If you care about the environment, you (1) should join this meaningful event (should)!

How to participate

The beach clean-up is a team event. If you want to participate, you (2) should form a team (should) of three people or more. Then, visit our website and fill in the application form. Please note that you (3) must submit the names of your group members (must) two weeks before the clean-up day if you want to make sure you can get your preferred time slot.

About the clean-up

You can decide the venue and duration yourself. If your group is a big one, you (4) may need more time (may). If you are not sure, you (5) can call or email us anytime (can). We are happy to help you set the time and the route.

You (6) must attend a briefing session (must) if you want to join the clean-up. We will provide all the materials like trash bags during the briefing session. Just remember to bring them on the clean-up day!

Rescheduling or cancelling the clean-up

If you want to change the date of the clean-up, you (7) must inform us via email (must) before your clean-up day. We will reschedule your clean-up on a first come, first serve basis. We (8) may not allocate your first choice of date (may) if the date is reserved by others. If you cancel on the clean-up date, you (9) must let us know by calling our hotline (must).

Supporting Hong Kong Cleanup

If you are not free to volunteer, you (10) may support us by donations (may). Please fill in the form on our website and we will contact you as soon as possible.
