Nothing is impossible

① Surprise, surprise. I failed the Maths test again last week. I have another one next week. I wanted to stop studying for it until I read about Tsang Tsz-kwan.

② Tsang is blind. She also has bad hearing. She cannot feel well with her 5 fingers either. This made it very hard for her to read Braille with her fingers. However, that did not stop her from learning. In Primary 1, Tsang found out that she could read Braille with her lips. When she grew up, she used this incredible skill to take her HKDSE exams. She passed the exams and got into university.

10 ③ Tsang's story is very inspiring. I'm going to study harder for Maths and I will pass my next test!
