Countable and uncountable nouns

Your grandmother felt ill. She called and asked you to help her do some grocery shopping. Complete the conversation using the correct form of the nouns in brackets.

Grandma:	(cough) Hello? Is it Benny? Can you hear me?
Benny:	Yes, grandma. Are you okay? Is everything all right?
Grandma:	My dear boy, I've caught a cold and feel a bit unwell. Could you help me do some grocery shopping today?
Benny:	Certainly! What do you want me to buy for you?
Grandma:	I'd like to make congee, but I don't have enough (1) rice (rice). Could you go to the supermarket and buy a bag for me?
Benny:	No problem! Let me note that down.
Grandma:	I'd also like to have something handy to eat for breakfast. Could you buy two (2) loaves (loaf) of bread and some (3) butter (butter)?
Benny:	Right. Do you want something to drink?
Grandma:	Oh! Yes, I do. Could you get two cartons of (4) milk (milk) for me? And your uncle drinks (5) coffee (coffee) every day, so don't forget to get him a cup on the way home.
Benny:	Good. Anything else?
Grandma:	Perhaps you could see if there are some fresh vegetables and fruit. I'd like to have three (6) tomatoes (tomato), a pack of (7) mushrooms (mushroom) and a bunch of (8) bananas (banana). Try to look for a few (9) peaches (peach) and (10) strawberries (strawberry) too. Your aunt loves eating them so much.
Benny:	Sure! Eating fruit is important. An apple a day keeps the doctor away.
Grandma:	Oh, and please remember to get two (11) boxes (box) of (12) salad (salad) and a dozen (13) eggs (egg) as well. Lastly, it'd be great if you could get two serving (14) trays (tray). They will be useful for our upcoming family party.
Benny:	All right! I've noted down everything. I'll go to the supermarket today and do the shopping for you. Take care, grandma!
Grandma:	Thank you, dear.

Talking about quantities

You are writing a play script about a family in Hong Kong. In this scene, a girl and her brother are talking about what food and drinks they have in the kitchen. Complete the play script using 'how much', 'how many', 'some' and 'any'.

Scene	Scene 2
(In the kitchen)
Lucy:	Mum is making a grocery list for shopping this afternoon. She asked us to see what we already have in the kitchen.
Neil:	All right, let's do it!
Lucy:	So, (1) how many apples are there in the fridge?
Neil:	Let me see. Hmm … I don't see (2) any apples.
Lucy:	OK, so we need to get some. How about milk? (3) How much milk do we have?
Neil:	There is (4) some left, but not much. We should get another carton, otherwise we won't have (5) any for our breakfast tomorrow.
Lucy:	Fine. How much cheese is there?
Neil:	I see (6) some cheese. In fact, there is plenty of it.
Lucy:	Good. (7) How many pieces of bacon are there? You know Dad loves to eat bacon for breakfast. He's crazy for bacon!
Neil:	Uh oh! There isn't (8) any bacon. It's all gone.
Lucy:	Let me write that down. What about eggs?
Neil:	Well, there are (9) some , but I'm not sure if that's enough for you.
Lucy:	(10) How many are there exactly?
Neil:	There are three eggs.
Lucy:	Great! (11) How much coffee is left in the tin?
Neil:	There is still (12) some left. I'd say about half a tin.
Lucy:	Good … Oh, (13) how much bread is there?
Neil:	There's none here. We don't have (14) any .
Lucy:	All right, I'll let Mum know. Thank you, Neil!

Text grammar Simple past tense

You are writing a diary entry about a strange dream you had last night. Complete the diary entry using the correct form of the verbs in brackets.

Dear Diary,

Last night, I had a really bizarre dream. I (1) dreamed/dreamt (dream) that I was in a restaurant. However, it (2) was not/wasn't (not be) an ordinary restaurant. It was a magical one!

I immediately (3) noticed (notice) how strange everything seemed. The waiters (4) did not/didn't look (not look) like humans but rather large talking bunnies. They (5) spoke (speak) to me in a strange language. (6) Was (be) it English, or a bunny language? But somehow I still understood what they said. Isn't it unbelievable? Then, I ordered some soup and vegetables.

The bunnies (7) brought (bring) me the soup and I (8) sipped (sip) it greedily. Then I tried the stir-fried vegetables. They were so delicious! The taste simply (9) blew (blow) me away! And the main course was equally great. But (10) were (be) there any desserts? Definitely! A bunny waiter placed a chocolate lava cake on my table and (11) cut (cut) it open gently. I was exhilarated as I saw the melting chocolate pour out from the cake.

'(12) Did you enjoy (enjoy) the food?' one of the bunnies asked me.

'Oh yes, certainly!' I (13) replied (reply).

All of a sudden, my alarm clock (14) rang (ring) and I woke up. What a strange dream! PS I'm really hungry now! ©

BLOG

All about Jennifer Lawrence

(1) Yesterday, my friends and I were talking about our favourite actors and actresses. Undoubtedly, my favourite film star is Jennifer Lawrence. So, (2) this morning, I decided to write a little about her on my blog.

Jennifer Lawrence was born in the United States (3) in 1990. During her childhood, she loved performing in school plays and church musicals. This splendid film star was first discovered (4) in 2004, when a talent scout noticed her amazing potential in New York. A couple of years later, (5) in 2006, she began her acting career with a minor role in the TV film Company Town. The next year, (6) in 2007, Lawrence got her huge breakthrough as she became a regular actor on the TV sitcom The Bill Engvall Show. (7) In 2009, she won the Young Artist Award for her performance in this TV series.

Gradually moving on to the silver screen, she starred in the critically-acclaimed film Winter's Bone (8) in 2010. (9) Six years ago, she won an Academy Award for her performance in Silver Linings Playbook, becoming the second youngest actress to ever receive the award.

Lawrence's life has not been without controversy, however. (10) In 2014, she was at the centre of a scandal as nude photos of hers were leaked onto the Internet. Lawrence was appalled by this and said that incident was a 'sexual violation'. In 2015, Forbes reported that Lawrence emerged as the world's highest-paid actress.

When I was talking to my friends yesterday about Jennifer Lawrence, I told them that she is not only an actress, but also a real humanitarian. Did you know that (11) in 2016, she donated $2 million USD to a children's hospital? More than that, (12) last year, she joined the online fundraising platform Omaze in support of charity. I admire her so much! I'm going to follow her example and start giving more to charity.
