Sandy:	They do look very nice and I'm sure my son would love one, (5)I'm afraid that's a bit out of my budget.
Salesperson:	I understand. We do have some cheaper models available. What else would you like to see, gadgets (6) video games?
Sandy:	Can I have a look at the video games?
Salesperson:	Sure! We sell a wide range of games for the PS4 (7) Xbox, but not the Nintendo.
Sandy:	Oh, I'm not sure what that means. Let me text my son (8) find out what he wants.
(The woman ta	kes out her phone (9) sends a message.)
Sandy:	OK, my son says that he has a PS4.
Salesperson:	Great! Does he like strategy games (10) action games?
Sandy:	I think he prefers action, (11) I don't want him to play anything too violent.
(The salespers	on reaches behind the counter (12) pulls out a game box.)
Salesperson:	I suggest this game then. It is the latest action sports game.
Sandy:	That looks good. Do you accept cheques?
Salesperson:	I'm sorry. We accept either cash (13) credit cards.
Sandy:	Let me see if I have enough cash with me

Possessive adjectives and pronouns

You are writing an article for the school newspaper about the Football Team's latest match. Complete the article with the correct possessive adjectives and pronouns.

Football Team wins tight match
Last evening, (1) school's Football Team won an exciting and tight match against
(2) rival school's football team. The score was 1–1 until John Law scored a goal.
(3) dramatic late goal sealed the victory.
The game did not start well for us—the performance of (4) team was better than
(5) throughout the first half. In fact, the lead was (6) as they were up 0–1.
However, we scored quickly at the start of the second half. It was a real battle after that. Thankfully, we came out on top at the end.
I had the chance to talk to John Law after the match. '(7) goal was the winner. How do you feel?' I asked him.
'Obviously, (8) goal was really important today, but I couldn't have done it without
(9) teammates,' he said. 'I want to dedicate this win to my sister, who is seriously ill.
(10) condition is never far from my mind.'
I also spoke with our football coach. 'Congratulations, the trophy is (11),' I said to him.
'No,' he replied. 'It's not (12) The trophy belongs to the whole team!'
It was a great night of football!

Gerunds and to-infinitives

You are texting with your friend, but there is a problem with your phone, so some of the words are missing. Complete the text messages with the correct form of the words in brackets.

You:	Hey, what are you up to?
Todd:	Hey! I'm looking for my pencil case. It's usually on my desk.
You:	Did you forget (1) (take) it out of your backpack when you got home?
Todd:	No, that's not in it. I remember (2) (put) it on my desk earlier. I think my little brother hid it somewhere. He did it yesterday too. I wish he would stop (3) (do) that. He's getting very mischievous lately.
You:	You should tell him to behave. He should remember (4) (be) nice to others.
Todd:	I don't know. I have a feeling that would only encourage him. Like yesterday, he was shouting loudly while I was doing homework. I asked him (5) (stop), but he just continued (6) (shout) at the top of his voice.
You:	Hmm, that sounds rough. Maybe you should get outsides for a bit? Do you want (7) (go) to the cinema perhaps?
Todd:	That sounds good. Let's go to the cinema near my home though. Do you remember (8) (go) to that cinema near yours? We regretted (9) (sit) in those uncomfortable chairs the rest of the week!
You:	You're right! I'll never forget (10) (fall) down from the broken chair! I avoid (11) (visit) that cinema now.
Todd:	Oh, yes, remember (12) (take) an umbrella with you. It might rain later.
You:	Okay. I'm coming over now.
Todd:	Alright. I'll do one more page of Maths and then stop (13) (get) ready.
You:	No problem. I'll get some snacks from the cinema food counter for the film first!

Consolidation

Your friend has just returned to Hong Kong after a trip abroad. She has written a blog entry about her experience. Help her proofread the blog entry by underlining the mistakes and writing the correct words above them.

Do you prefer Japan but Korea? I visited both with mine parents recently. We visited the island nation of Japan for four days or then we spent the weekend in South Korea. It was a truly amazing experience!

Before this trip, I had never been on an airplane before, and I wasn't really too nervous about it. The airlines flight attendants were very kind to me or asked me if there was anything I needed. There was a bit of turbulence on the flight to Japan, and I remained calm. In fact, I think I was calmer than my dad. He eyes were open wide as the plane shook!

We went to a lot of interesting tourist attractions while we were in Japan. I will never forget to look up at the beautiful Mount Fuji on our second morning there. It is Japans most famous volcano. I took some photos but my phone soon ran out of battery. I immediately regretted not to charge it the night before.

Besides visiting tourist attractions, we also ate a lot of Japanese foods. I love all theirs different styles of cooking. I couldn't get enough. After I finished a meal, I would immediately ask my mother, 'Can I have some of yours food?' Although I always tried to take some of her, I never got any. She always said, 'No. This is me!' Next, we went to South Korea. We visited some temples and N Seoul Tower. Luckily, my parents remembered putting a lock on the 'Locks of Love'.

Korean food is also quite delicious. On our final day there, we stopped eating at a little restaurant called 'Mr Kims Korean Kitchen'. I think it was the best meal I've ever had!
