The tour begins at the centre, where biologist Mr Au will first give an introduction of the zoo and a briefing of the rules of the tour. He will then tell visitors (8) where to look for different animals and plants and teach us (9) how to engage with animals carefully. Mum: Anything else? You: Since there are hundreds of flower species in the garden and the greenhouse, Mr Au will remind us (10) which to observe for details, in case we are running out of time. By the way, Mum, did you say that you're planning to get a houseplant? Yes, dear. Why don't we ask Mr Au (11) what to prepare for keeping a houseplant? Mum: You: That's exactly what I'm thinking about. Mum: So, we'll start the morning with visiting the lions, followed by a half-day guided tour. What's next? You: I recommend that we take part in the unique activity of the zoo 'Meeting the Zookeepers' in the afternoon. Professional zookeepers will share with us their experience in animal care and teach us (12) how to take care of animals and pets. That sounds interesting! It must be a popular event. Do you remember (13) when to apply Mum: for the event? You: Sure! The registration will be open 24 hours before the event. I'll make sure I'll get four tickets for us. Mum: So, things are almost settled. Could you contact Danny and Jamie to make sure that they know (14) when to meet on Sunday? All right! I'll tell them to meet at the entrance of the zoo at 9.30 a.m. on Sunday. You:

- start looking for my dream job •
- stop the occurrence of extreme weather events
- travel into the future to see what life is like • there
- use them to fight crime like a superhero •
- zoom over the city looking for bad guys •

Alison:	OK, let's play a game. Answer my questions about fantasy, and don't be afraid to use your imagination! What would you do if you had magical powers?
You:	If I had magical powers, (1) I would use them to fight crime like a superhero.
Alison:	Interesting. What if you could fly? What would you do?
You:	(2) If I could fly, I would zoom over the city looking for bad guys.
Alison:	I see. What if you could see into the future? What would you do then?
You:	(3) If I could see into the future, I would find out the winning lottery numbers.
Alison:	What would you do if you could read people's minds?
You:	(4) If I could read people's minds, I would use that power to help them deal with the issues in their lives.
Alison:	Hmm, I see. What if you had the power to communicate with animals?
You:	(5) If I had the power to communicate with animals, I would chat with my pet dog every day.
Alison:	Right. What would you do if you had the power to control the weather?
You:	(6) If I had the power to control the weather, I would stop the occurrence of extreme weather events.

Alison:	Let's try something easier. What would you do if you rose to fame overnight?
You:	(12) If I rose to fame overnight, I would organize a concert at Hong Kong
Alison:	Coliseum.
Alison.	Alright, let's try a tougher one. What would you change if you could change one thing about yourself?
You:	(13) If I could change one thing about myself, I would give myself a muscular physique.
Alison:	OK, final question. What would you do if you found out that your life was actually just a computer simulation?
You:	(14) If I found out that my life was just a computer simulation, I wouldn't do anything differently because it is still my life.

Using be used to and used to

You found a crashed alien spaceship when you went hiking in the countryside. Inside the spaceship, you discovered an alien's travel log, You are trying to read it but some of the words are unclear. Complete the travel log with 'be (not) used to' and 'used to/did not use to'.

I am so sick of being trapped in this spaceship! When I was young, I (1) used to dream about leaving home on a spaceship. I (2) used to think that it would be so cool to travel through the galaxy and visit all the fantastic planets. Now that I (3) am used to it though, I have to say that space travel is rather disappointing. Back then when I was at my home planet, I (4) used to dine in starred restaurants every day. Now, I have to live on space sludge and rehydrated water, which I (5) did not/didn't use to put into my mouth. And I don't think I will ever (6) be used to that either! Unfortunately, my spaceship made a crash landing on this foreign planet Hadesia. All of my teammates are now scattered all over this land. I guess we all (7) are not used to living on our own because we are a highly social species. Worse still, my robotic pet dog (8) was not used to the poor environment here when we first arrived and it passed away. Now, I'm all alone.

10 Novemeber 2159

The environment of Hadesia forced me to leave. Then, there was the Blargon Clash. I accidentally landed my ship on a planet called Blargon because my spaceship was running out of fuel. I begged the Blargon aliens to refill my ship for me, but they just looked at me in astonishment and ignored me. It seemed that they (9) were not used to seeing foreign spaceships because they were all trying to take photos of me and my ship. It didn't look right to me because when I was younger I (10) used to watch military documentaries about the Blargons. Blargon was supposed to be one of the most advanced planets in the galaxy. So why were they so surprised at discovering an exotic visitor? That's when I realized that the documentaries I (11) used to watch were about the Bergon, a neighbouring planet of the Blargon! No wonder the underdeveloped Blargons (12) were not used to the idea of a spaceship needing fuel. They had never even seen a spaceship before!

12 Novemeber 2159

I (13) did not/didn't use to be that pessimistic. I believed that I could stand up to every challenge in this space journey. But I'm afraid I'm wrong. Anyway, I'm setting off to another planet now. According to my star map, this one is called Earth. This is the very last chance of survival.

18 Novemeber 2159

Reporting from Earth: apparently, the aliens here (14) are not used to seeing spaceships. They don't seem friendly to me. I have to be cautious ...

Bobby:	I'd say that's a map torn in pieces. Also, I (3) used to trust you with all my heart, but after last week, it's a bit more difficult.
Alice:	Oh, Bobby. I said I was sorry. I didn't mean to lead you the wrong way and miss the campfire party. If I (4) had a time machine, I (5) would travel back in time and undo what I did.
Bobby:	If I (6) earned a dollar for every time you apologized to me, I could buy myself a new car. Let's just forget about the past though. I (7) am used to it by now.
